Report on The Book Club Launch

The much-anticipated book club finally came into existence, The Literary Coven.

The launch was made even special by the attendance of renowned author, publisher and a film maker.

The guest answered all the questions posed by budding literary enthusiasts, shared his own stories as a writer and an avid reader and made the first donation to the club.

The students also did a small cosplay in which they dressed up as fictional characters. This launch was followed by fun brain teasers on books, authors, anime, comics and for every question students were applauded and given chocolates.
