DEPARTMENT OF COMPUTER SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING

<GN-R-18> (2022 - 2023) II B.Tech II Sem Hobby Project on

“FITBOX”

Abstract:

The project's objective is to create a user friendly app that addresses the specific needs of college students, helping them maintain a healthy lifestyle despite their busy schedules. The app will provide tracking tools, workout routines, and other features tailored to the students dietary preferences, budget and time constraints. Customised recommendations based on users goals and progress will be available. By promoting a healthy lifestyle in a fun and accessible way, the app aims to empower college students to take control of their health and fitness. The interface will be simple and intuitive to navigate, and suggestions will be affordable and easy to implement. Overall, this project aims to help college students achieve their health goals by providing the tools and resources necessary to lead healthier and happier lives.
