on
"Robotics - Innovations to Incubation"

About The Workshop

Robotics is a technology that influences every area of work and home. Robotics can improve efficiency and enhance safety. Robotics is set to become the driving technology for a whole new generation of autonomous devices and cognitive artefacts that interact seamlessly with the world around them. Robotics is already the key driver of competitiveness and flexibility in large scale manufacturing industries. Service robotics will also be increasingly used in non-manufacturing industries such as agriculture, transport, healthcare, security and utilities.

Workshop Overview Session 1

- Different types of Robots & Robotic technologies , Applications
